

Margaret Gong, Co-Executive Director of the MVLA High School Foundation

Margaret Gong is co-executive director of the Mountain View-Los Altos (MVLA) High School Foundation. She joined the foundation in May 2013 as a board member, joined the executive board in May 2014, and became co-executive director with Laura Roberts in March 2015. She was on the Leadership Circle committee in 2013 and is currently the chairperson. Within the Mountain View Los Altos area school district, Margaret volunteered in the College & Career Center of Mountain View High School for six years and helped coordinate several of the district-wide events in addition to maintaining the Naviance database of scholarship opportunities. Currently, Margaret is an active volunteer of MVLA Scholars, mentoring AVID seniors as well as a college MVLA Scholar.

Prior to retiring in 2014 to dedicate herself fully to enhancing public education, Margaret was a staff software engineer at Aeroflex. Margaret earned her Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees in electrical engineering at Stanford University.
